

EXAM POV NOTES (Q&A FORMAT)

1. Explain the different formats of resumes and detail the essential components of an effective resume.

Point	Description
Chronological Format	This is one of the various types of resumes available to summarize your education, employment history, and work experience.
Functional Format	This type of resume format groups experience and skills differently than a traditional chronological layout.
Combination Format	This format blends characteristics from other resume types, alongside formats such as Targeted, Resume with Profile, and Visual/Infographic.
Identify Yourself	The resume must begin with this component, which includes necessary contact details for the candidate.
Career Objective	This component acts as the pitch of your resume , catching the attention of the recruiter and projecting a positive attitude.
Educational Background	Details about Education must be included, along with Professional Experience, Work, and Internships.
Technical Skills	This category details specific proficiencies and includes both Technical Skills and Computer Skills.
Research/Projects	The resume should list Research Work, Projects, Trainings, and Certifications completed by the candidate.
Extra-curricular Activities	Co-curricular or Extra Co-curricular activities are components that must be listed to provide a comprehensive profile.
Achievements & Associations	The final components include a listing of Achievements, Professional Associations, and Personal Details.

2. Describe the necessary preliminary preparations for the recruitment process, focusing on Company Research and KSA mapping.

Point	Description
Job Profile Review	Preliminary preparation requires a thorough review of the Job Profile, including its Title, Experience requirements, Compensation, and Education criteria.
Company Research Requirement	This is a necessary step in the preliminary preparation phase, along with KSA mapping and cover letter creation.
Vision, Mission, and Values	Company Research must cover the Company's Vision, Mission and Values , giving insight into the organization's philosophy.
Organizational Structure	Research must also analyze the Organizational Structure and identify the Head of the Organization and Top Management Team.
Product/Client Analysis	The preparation involves studying the company's Products/Services and identifying the Company's Clients.
KSA Mapping Introduction	The methodology of Mapping Knowledge Skills Abilities (KSA) is essential for converting and matching the candidate's profile to the Job Profile.
Knowledge Definition	Knowledge refers specifically to theoretical information acquired about any subject, such as MS Office, Java, or SQL.
Skills Definition	Skills refer to the practical application of the acquired theoretical knowledge.
Skills Examples	Examples of practical skills include Communication Skills, Interpersonal Skills, and Leadership Skills.

Abilities Definition	Abilities are the inherent qualities that enable a person to perform a particular task, such as being Proactive, a Team Player, or having an Attitude to Learn.
-----------------------------	---

3. Outline the detailed structure of a formal report, explaining the purpose and content typically found in the listed sections.

Point	Description
Title	The report starts with a clear Title, ensuring it precisely states the subject matter, optionally including a smaller font subtitle.
Letter of Transmittal	This is a short cover letter that must accompany the document to explain the report's purpose or importance.
Executive Summary/Abstract	This section provides a brief summary of the entire content, serving as an overview of the report.
Summary Content	The Summary must cover the core aspects of the report: the Problem statement, Method used, Analysis, and its Result.
Table of Contents (TOC)	This section lists all the report sections, including page numbers, and references any attached appendices.
Introduction - Problem/Motivation	This section explains the problem and/or motivation for the project and sets out what the writer plans to say.
Introduction - Aims/Purpose	The Introduction must explicitly state the aim(s) and purpose of the report.
Discussion/Main Body	This section includes all relevant investigation information, arranged logically, presenting the findings, interpretations, and judgments.
Conclusion - Outcomes	The Conclusion summarizes the Outcomes resulting from the investigation's findings.
Conclusion - Aim Achievement/Limitations	This section must state if the aim was achieved and highlight any limitations or provide recommendations for further study.

4. Discuss the emerging trends on LinkedIn, specifically explaining how the "massive boost in personal branding and social selling" and the use of "short video" content are essential for building a professional brand.

Point	Description
Personal Branding Trend	There is a massive boost in personal branding and social selling on LinkedIn.
Relationship Building	People are seeking trusted brands with whom they can build relationships over time, rather than just buying products.
Connecting with Real People	A guaranteed method to connect with the core audience is by addressing their desire to connect with real people .
Social Selling	This concept involves building meaningful relationships with existing followers on the platform.
Short Video Essential	Short video is becoming an essential part of content building for successful personal branding.
Embracing the Shift	Professionals must embrace the shift to video content to build their personal brand successfully.

Showcasing Expertise	Video provides a unique opportunity to showcase expertise in an exciting way.
Emotional Connection	Video content is highly effective as it will always evoke emotion and create strong connections with the audience.
AI Integration	Trend 3 indicates that AI tools will take over, enhancing efficiency by allowing planners to combine AI-generated content with post-scheduling tools.
Micro-Influencer Focus	The flourishing of LinkedIn micro-influencers is a trend, as they are considered the "voices of their niche," leading to better engagement.

5 Marks Questions

5. What are the characteristics of an effective resume?

Point	Description
Authentic and Professional	An effective resume must be both Authentic in its content and maintain a Professional appearance.
Order and Relevance	It should follow Reverse chronological order (unless functional) and contain a specific and relevant career objective .
Clarity and Scanning	The content must be to the point and easily scannable by the recruiter.
Visual Presentation	The resume must be Visually appealing and should be submitted in PDF format .
Concise Length	The length should be concise, ideally one page or at the most 2 pages long .

6. Explain the significance of a well-written Career Objective or resume objective.

Point	Description
Resume Pitch	The Career Objective or resume objective acts as the pitch of your resume .
Recruiter Engagement	A well-written objective is significant because it helps to catch the attention of the recruiter .
Positive Projection	It should project a positive attitude toward the company's output and terms.
Setting Interview Tone	An effective resume, signaled by the objective, sets up a right tone for the interview .
Question Hinting	It influences the hiring process by hinting the interviewer about what questions to ask .

7. Define a Cover Letter and explain its primary role.

Point	Description
Definition	A Cover Letter is a document attached to the job application.
Personal Introduction	It introduces the candidate in a more personal way than the resume.
Complementary Role	It acts to compliment the information on the resume or curriculum vitae.
Expanding Content	Its role involves expanding on the skills and achievements mentioned in the resume.
Success Highlight	It highlights a selection of the candidate's greatest career successes, showing why they are the best candidate.

8. Differentiate between Formal and Informal Reports, and explain Vertical and Lateral Reports.

Point	Description
Formal Reports	These are meticulously designed documents focusing on organizational objectives, like annual audit reports.
Formal Style	Formal reports are detailed and strictly prohibit the use of personal pronouns.
Informal Reports	These are typically short documents, such as internal memorandums, written in a casual language.
Vertical Reports	Characterized by hierarchy, these reports are meant for management or mentees, flowing across the organizational hierarchies.
Lateral Reports	These focus on coordination between different departments and units, such as reports shared between the finance and administration departments.

9. Summarize the Report Writing Process.

Point	Description
Purpose and Audience	The process starts by identifying the purpose of the report and identifying the readers and their needs .
Research and Outline	The second phase requires researching about the topic followed by creating a structured plan by outlining the report .
Drafting	The main writing phase involves creating the content by Writing/Typing the draft .
Editing	After the content is produced, the writer must Edit the draft for accuracy and clarity.
Finished Product	The final step in the sequential process results in The finished product .

10. Describe Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities (KSA) as they relate to a Job Profile.

Point	Description
Knowledge (K) Definition	Knowledge refers to theoretical information acquired about any subject.
K Examples (Theoretical)	Examples of Knowledge required include knowing about IT/ITES Industry or specific programming knowledge like Java .
Skills (S) Definition	Skills refer to the practical application of the acquired knowledge.
S Examples (Practical)	Examples of practical skills include Analytical Skills or Creative application .
Abilities (A) Definition & Examples	Abilities are inherent qualities that enable task performance, such as being a Team Player or possessing Time Management abilities.

11. Write a short note on Periodic Reports and Project Reports.

Point	Description
Periodic Report Schedule	These reports are regularly sent out on pre-scheduled dates .
Periodic Report Frequency	Common examples of Periodic Reports include quarterly, half-yearly, or annual reports .
Periodic Report Purpose	They primarily serve the management to help keep business processes and activities in control .

Project Report Status	These reports are provided to keep clients and team members up-to-date on the status of various projects .
Project Report Content	They often include a timeline of the report progress and the deadline for each segment.

12. Explain the importance of a LinkedIn profile.

Point	Description
Professional Landing Page	The LinkedIn profile serves as a professional landing page for the user.
Personal Brand Management	It is important for members to use it to manage their personal brand .
Public Storyboard	The profile functions as a personal storyboard where people can find you and stay updated on your activity.
Visibility	By default, a profile is fully visible to all LinkedIn members who have signed in to the platform.
Privacy Control	Users have the ability to control what appears on their profile and manage their profile privacy preferences .

2 Marks Questions

13. What is the French meaning of 'resume'?

Point	Description
Origin	The word resume is derived from a French word.
Meaning	The French word means ' summary of life '.

14. What two key actions does a report typically set out and analyze?

Point	Description
Analysis	A report sets out and analyzes a situation or problem .
Action	It also involves making recommendations for future action .

15. State the two acceptable page lengths for an effective resume.

Point	Description
One Page	An effective resume should be one page long.
Two Pages Maximum	At the most, an effective resume may be 2 pages long.

16. Name two specific types of reports that fall under the category of Functional Reports.

Point	Description
Financial/Accounting	These types of reporting include financial and accounting reports .
Marketing	Another type that falls under this category is marketing reports .

17. Why are LinkedIn micro-influencers generally perceived to have better engagement with their audience?

Point	Description
Niche Voice	People perceive micro-influencers as the voices of their niche .
Trust	They have better engagement because their audience prefers their trusted voice over those of anonymous corporations.

18. List two examples of Knowledge Required (theoretical information).

Point	Description
Software Knowledge	An example of theoretical information required is MS Office .
Industry/Database Knowledge	Other examples include knowledge of the IT / ITES Industry or Oracle .

19. What is the approximate length recommended for the Executive Summary or Abstract in a report?

Point	Description
Summary Type	The Executive Summary is a brief summary of the contents of the report.
Length	The recommended length for the Executive Summary or Abstract is about 200 words .

20. In professional report writing, what is the crucial guideline regarding the inclusion of personal opinion?

Point	Description
Guideline Focus	Report writing must adhere to basic guidelines, ensuring the paper is factual.
Rule	The crucial guideline is that No personal opinion is allowed in a report .

21. What is the purpose of including a Table of Contents in a formal report?

Point	Description
Section Listing	The Table of Contents (TOC) is included as a list of all sections of the report .
Page Navigation	It includes the page numbers of each section within the report and any appendices that are attached.

22. An effective resume sets up the right tone for the interview; how else does it hint at the interview process?

Point	Description
one	An effective resume helps to set up the right tone for the interview .
Question Guidance	It also hints the interviewer about what questions to ask .

Anatomy of a Perfect Cover Letter

1

YOUR NAME
555-212-8533
your-email@gmail.com

2
 Dear [Recruiter/Hiring Manager's Name],

3
INTRO PARAGRAPH:
 Grab the reader's attention right away with a unique opening line. In a few sentences, describe what role you're applying for, why you're interested in the job (and the company itself), and what makes you a good fit.

4
BODY PARAGRAPH(S):
 List the responsibilities of your position, projects you participated in, skills you acquired, and above all, the impact that you had. Feel free to include any accomplishments or awards you received.

5
CLOSING PARAGRAPH:
 Re-emphasize why you're interested in the position, why you're passionate about the company, and why you'd make a good fit. In addition, describe how you, if hired, would contribute to the company.

CALL-TO-ACTION:
 Prompt the reader to move forward with your application by inviting them to follow up with you, and thank them for reviewing your cover letter.

6
 Sincerely,
 [Your name]

Format Of Report Writing

Heading
by (Name), Staff Reporter

Place, Date
eg: Delhi, 12th March, 20XX

Body :

- Introduction - Explain why the report has been written
What - When - Where?
- Main content - About matter or event in detail
- End with conclusion.